NEXT COSMIC FAIRS

We were invited to give a Sahaja Yoga workshop at a High School in Sydney. Nine staff attended and were very keen to learn to relax. After an introductory talk by Dr Ramesh, which they found especially interesting, the staff settled down for the experience of Self Realisation. They all received their realisation and felt the cool breeze and there were no more questions. Some staff expressed interest in attending programmes around Sydney and said they would also practise at home. The school counsellor is very keen to offer the meditation to year 12's and in the future offer it as an elective in the sports period. Jai Shri Mataji!

The celebration of Shri Krishna Puja

Balmoral Village
Saturday September 4th at 2:00pm.

Following the Puja will be the celebration of Raksha Bandhan.

Fathers Day falls on the first Sunday of September so it was thought to have the Puja on Saturday to facilitate the family celebration of fatherhood on the following day.

10 Clarence Street's operation as the pre-school commences around 5:00pm on Sunday evenings and usually it has proved an intricate exercise to return the premises to its school configuration following the hosting of a Puja.

Generally it takes many days to return the premises back to normal school operations. To reduce the demands that are already placed upon the staff and residents of the school during school term all Pujas will be held at Balmoral Village.

Raksha Bandhan.

"Thus I tie a raksha round your wrist,
May its protection be eternal"

Shri Mataji has spoken about the origins of Raksha Bandhan, or the rakhi and its implication of the sister's protection, safety, care, referring to the bond which exists between a brother and sister, which is translated through the thread which is tied onto their brother's right wrist.

This piece of thread or Rarki can be made of cotton or silk but what it signifies is much deeper and more profound. It is a promise of sisterly love, respect, nobility, honour and above all, protection; and the brothers' pledge to protect and respect his sister.

Through Sahaja Culture the festival of Raksha Bandhan is celebrated on the day of Shri Krishna Puja. There are several rituals and ceremonies which may take place to celebrate this bond, the sister may perform an aarti for her brother, and mark his forehead with kumkum, and place a sweet in his mouth.

However its deeper essence is the bond of protection, which reinforces the chaste relationship between a sister and brother, and the brother's commitment that he may always protect and safeguard her chastity and spirituality.

In today's materialistic world, this special relationship between a brother and sister has almost become outmoded and obsolete.

Raksha Bandhan is a celebration of the affirmation of the pure relationships that are vital in one's life. It is not just a time to tie a Rarki and exchange gifts, but like most aspects of Sahaja culture it has emerged as an important time to introspect and to re-establish innocence; to reaffirm the pure relationships that exist amongst us; and to confirm the bonds of pure love and innocence that exist between a brother and sister - no matter how close or far they maybe.

Fiji – Island in the stream

During the occasion of Guru Puja Shri Mataji was presented with a letter from the Sahaja Yogis of Fiji who thanked Her for the blessings of Sahaja Yoga. Shri Mataji commended the efforts of all those who visited Fiji last year to spread Sahaja Yoga and remarked that this is the sort of work Sahaja Yogis should be doing – going all out to spread Her message far and wide.

As a result of the visit last November Sahaja Yoga has taken root in Fiji and Shri Mataji gave Her support for a return visit this year. A photograph of a young Fijian Sahaja Yogi who came as a result of this tour was presented together with his commitment that he intended to give realisation to one person each day.

He also expressed the wish to come to Shri Ganesha Puja to be married for which Shri Mataji gave Her approval, however he does not have adequate funds to make the journey.

Anyone who may wish to contribute in some way to facilitate his first journey from his Pacific Island to Cabella, and hopefully marriage, may contact Geoff Platford in New Zealand 64 9 418 3824.

Suggestion Box

A suggestion box will be instigated at Burwood to facilitate communication from the collective of all manners. Suggestions can be on any topic that people feel are important. Sometimes one may feel reticent in expressing views, hopefully this may help to facilitate an open expression about concerns, hopes, aspirations, desires, wishes, proposed projects, or better ways to help in the promotion of Sahaja Yoga, or just a means of providing feedback.

NEEDED - TOYS - URGENT!

Would anyone who has spare items for 3,4,5 year old children (even for older ones) to play with, please bring them to the Pre-School (or give us a call).

We would appreciate items such as :

- wooden puzzles
- puzzles with larger, stronger pieces
- games with not too many little pieces
- all sorts of games!

These could be for teams or small groups, as well as individuals, and could include inside and outside games or equipment. Anything that can hold the interest of the children, help them settle, or occupy them on rainy days would be greatly appreciated.

Love from the Aunties and Uncles at Burwood

A Poem The Sahaj Pre-school (Sydney)

The Sahaja Pre-school is lots of fun,
And as a group we all are one,
With Shri Mataji's loving smile
In our hearts all the while.

The morning begins with song and prayer,
And breakfast is sweet with Aunties there.
The uncles at play are so much fun
With sharing and caring for everyone!

Reading stories and building blocks,
Playing in parks without any socks.
Music and Dance and growing flowers
The vibrations are flowing for hours and hours.

We love to learn and play and sing
With Joy our Sahasrara rings
The children teach us Ganesha's ways
As we clear ourselves day by day.

And then at night it's back to the dorm,
Our bandhans protection keep us cosy and warm.
With Mother in our hearts, showing the way,
Tomorrow brings another beautiful day!

Jai Shri Mataji
